SAVE THE DATE for the Workshop for Healthcare Facility Water System Safety

The NICN and Nebraska Methodist College Professional Development have teamed up for an exciting opportunity to learn from local experts on water system safety!

We invite you to join us if you work in a hospital setting, including a critical access hospital or a long-term care facility. We encourage you to bring several members of your water management team! Specifically, we welcome anyone involved in healthcare water system management, including facilities management, safety managers, infection preventionists, and facility administrators.
